

Countdown on for old Corn Exchange future

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

COUNCILLORS have just three weeks to decide whether to try and buy an historic town centre landmark.

The derelict Corn Exchange in Haverhill's Withersfield Road has been crumbling for years.

But interest from an external buyer triggered a six-week countdown for the town council to choose whether to make a bid on the property. But councillors have been told about this with just three weeks left.

At a Haverhill Town Council meeting on Tuesday night, town clerk Colin Poole said: "Unfortunately . . . six weeks' notice, that started three weeks ago. It's taken that long for the borough to agree that it has started at all, so we only have three weeks left."

A campaign two years ago to get the Corn Exchange turned into a heritage centre was not successful. Other uses suggested for it include a registry office or an arts venue like the John Peel Centre in Stowmarket, which is housed in a former Corn Exchange.

Mayor of Haverhill Cllr Betty McLatchy said after the meeting: "It depends how far the [private buyers] have got and if it's genuine community use – we don't want it turned into flats. I really would like it for a registry office."

Haverhill Town Council has agreed to hold an extraordinary meeting to discuss whether to make a bid on the property.

Roy Brazier, of the Haverhill History Group, said: "There's not many of the old buildings left, and if some private people buy it, it would probably be pulled down and turned into flats."

Both he and Cllr McLatchy expressed concern that if the building was left in its derelict state much longer it would soon be unusable.

Cllr McLatchy said: "It's just falling down, and this winter a lot of rain's gone in."

The building has smashed windows and vegetation growing from the brickwork.

The town council has already commissioned a survey to see if it is feasible for them to buy the Corn

Exchange, and was set to discuss placing a bid on the property on April 26 – but that date is now the deadline for the council to decide.

Mr Poole said the issue to consider was whether the cost involved in running an arts venue, heritage centre or community hall would be good value for taxpayers' money.

He said: "We are going to have to weigh all those things very carefully to decide whether or not we can afford them."

A borough council spokesperson said: "The town council has been aware for some time that the site was likely to be sold. The borough council were officially made aware on March 15, 2016, of the owner's intention to sell but needed time to resolve a legal issue before the town council could be informed."

"This did eat into the initial six week period in which Haverhill Town Council simply needs to decide if it wishes to make a bid for the site. The end of the initial period is April 26 and we do not have any power or discretion to extend this period."

The public meeting about whether to bid will take place at the arts centre at 7pm on April 18.

Students star in film about mental health

HAVERHILL students have created a short film which is set to be rolled out in school assemblies across the county.

Students at Samuel Ward Academy in Chalkstone Way worked with a professional screenwriter and film-maker to create Mind: Your Language, a film that aims to raise awareness of mental health issues and the way they are talked about.

The school was initially contacted about the project by Suffolk County Council's public health manager Chris Pyburn.

Samuel Ward teacher Pat Stalker said: "We thought it was just such a great opportunity, with mental health issues increasingly in the fore, and rightly so."

"As a school that takes these things really seriously, we are just happy to support something to raise awareness."

The nine Year 9 and 10 drama students who appeared in the film also worked with members of the Norfolk and Suffolk NHS Foundation Trust youth council, and mental health nurse Emma Corlett, who works with the youth council.

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

The Samuel Ward students and the youth councillors gave up three week-ends to brainstorm ideas for the film, building on their own experiences, and to shoot it at the school.

Writer Molly Naylor, who worked for BBC Radio 4, The Royal Shakespeare Company and on Sky 1 sitcom After Hours, used the students' ideas to create a script, which was shot by film-maker Dave Guttridge at locations around the school.

Mrs Stalker said: "The opportunity to write scripts with somebody who gets paid to write scripts and in addition to work with the creative talent that is Dave is a chance in a million. The kindness that they showed to our students - they were very complimentary.

"We all learnt lots. Just a chance in a million."

The film is one of six being produced this year on different health topics as part of a Suffolk County Council programme. It is set to be sent out to schools across Norfolk and Suffolk to be played in assemblies, Mrs Stalker said.

A spokeswoman for Suffolk County Council said: "The project is the result of joint work between Suffolk County Council, Norfolk and Suffolk NHS Foundation Trust and the Samuel Ward Academy."

"It has been developed as one of the public health team's six campaigns for 2015/16, which cover a range of subjects from men's health to physical activity and debt management."

The film is set to be officially launched with a screening at Haverhill Arts Centre on April 19.

Historic cottage saved by inspector's decision

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

A 200-YEAR-OLD cottage has been saved from possible demolition by a planning inspector's decision described as "terrific news".

A planning inspector's report published on Friday states that building on the site of Flint Cottage in Haverhill's Bumpstead Road would cause "a significantly harmful effect on the character and appearance of the surrounding area".

The cottage, which has stood since at least 1835, was put under threat when its owner Kenneth Dobinson submitted an application to build seven homes on the site last June.

After a campaign by residents to save the building, the application was rejected by St Edmundsbury Borough Council on October 1.

But Mr Dobinson appealed against the decision.

Last week's report by planning inspector David Spencer dismissed the appeal. He stated that while the flats would provide "acceptable living conditions" for other residents, they would cause "significant harm" to the character of the area.

Mr Spencer highlighted the "spacious, verdant character" of the area behind Flint Cottage. He said that this green space would be significantly harmed by any in-depth development on the site even if – as Mr Dobinson suggested – the plans were altered so that the cottage was not demolished.

Town councillor Jason Crooks said that both the town council and individual residents in the area had submitted comments to the appeal. Residents also campaigned against the original application, submitting comments and starting an online petition which was signed by 952 people.

Cllr Crooks continued: "This is absolutely terrific news and well done to the residents for standing collectively together to fight the application."

Flint Cottage had previously been a listed building but was delisted after extensive renovations in the 1960s. Concerns voiced by councillors and residents included the loss of a piece of the town's heritage if the cottage was demolished.

Cllr Crooks said: "Wherever historic Haverhill is threatened, we have got to fight to preserve it all the time."

At a meeting with Haverhill Town Council last year, Mr Dobinson said that the proposal to demolish Flint Cottage was "forced on us" after Suffolk Highways objected to a previous application to build flats in the garden.

St Edmundsbury officers had recommended last June's application be approved, but Mr Spencer wrote that the council "has not behaved unreasonably" in rejecting it.

CRIME

Call to keep dogs on lead after attacks

POLICE are warning dog walkers to keep their pets on leads after an increase in the number of dangerous dog incidents in Haverhill.

The warning comes after the latest such incident, which took place last Thursday, March 31, when a Shih Tzu was injured by another dog.

The injured dog was being walked on a lead on the old railway path in Haverhill between New Cangle Primary School and Arrendene Road at around 5.35pm when a black Staffordshire Bull Terrier with a collar but no lead came up.

The Staffordshire Bull Terrier bit the Shih Tzu leaving a puncture wound.

Although the owner of the black dog spoke to the Shih Tzu's owner, he did not leave details and police are appealing for him to come forward.

Sgt Matt Gilbert, of Haverhill police, said: "We have had it on a weekly basis with dog-on-dog incidents. I think a lot of people are walking their dogs without leads and this is becoming more common."

He said there had also been incidents where people were injured by dogs not on leads. He urged dog walkers to keep their pets on leads if there was a chance they could injure other dogs or people.

The owner of the black dog can call Haverhill police on 101.

COMMUNITY

Town emergencies up for discussion

A MEETING is being held on Tuesday to help decide how the town would cope in an emergency such as fire, a flood or a flu epidemic.

The community resilience meeting, to take place in the studio at the Haverhill Arts Centre at 7pm, will be attended by a member of Suffolk County Council's community emergency planning team.

It will be the starting point for developing a community resilience plan.

Measures covered in the plan could range from where to find tractors to move fallen trees in high winds to identifying good neighbours to pick up prescriptions for others in the event of a flu epidemic.

There will be an opportunity for residents to sign up to help create the plan.

CRIME

Police appeal after safe theft

POLICE are appealing for witnesses after a safe containing cash and jewellery was stolen from a home in Haverhill.

The victims returned to their home in the town's Mustards Gapp at around 3pm on Saturday, April 2, to see two people waiting outside their house in a dark grey Mercedes.

This was followed by two younger men coming out of the property carrying the safe, which they loaded into the car before it drove away.

Police are appealing for anyone who saw the dark grey Mercedes, or anything suspicious in the Mustards Gapp area to come forward.

They can call Haverhill police on 101 quoting crime reference number 37/25792/16, or contact Crimestoppers, anonymously if required, on 0800 555 111.

Tebbitt to tell of career as a pilot

A FORMER cabinet minister is set to give a talk near Haverhill about his career in the Royal Air Force.

Lord Norman Tebbit will give the talk at Stirling House, the former officers' mess at RAF Stradishall, which is now Highpoint prison.

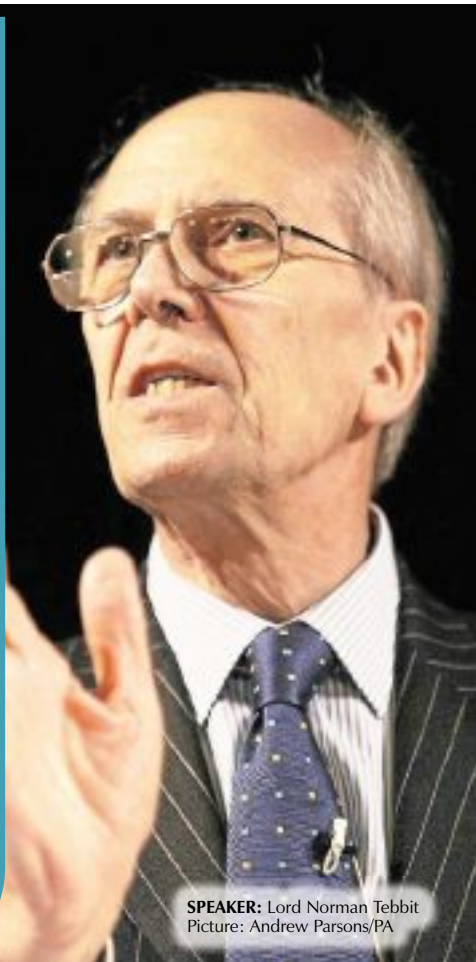

Lord Tebbit will speak about his career as a pilot in the RAF, and his work for state airline BOAC.

Lord Tebbit, who is now a peer in the House of Lords, worked as a pilot in the 1950s and 1960s, before his political career began.

The event has been organised by the Haverhill Aviation Society, but non-members are welcome.

Tickets to the talk on Thursday, April 21, at 7.30pm cost £3.

You can find out more by contacting John Rye on (01440) 761 653, or by emailing him at havavsoc@gmail.com

POLITICS

Residents to vote in three elections

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

THREE elections are set to be held in Haverhill next month after the death of a respected borough and county councillor.

Residents in Haverhill are set to vote in elections to choose Suffolk's new Police and Crime Commissioner (PCC), as well as electing a county councillor and a borough councillor on May 5.

While the PCC elections have always been planned for early May, the council by-elections became necessary after Cllr Tim Marks died in January.

Cllr Marks was a serving county councillor for the Haverhill Cangle division and borough councillor for Haverhill North when he died aged 78 during a planning committee site visit on January 4.

Around 350 people attended Cllr Marks' funeral at St Mary's Church in Haverhill's Market Square.

He had served on town, borough and county councils since 2003, served as Mayor of St Edmundsbury in 2012/13 and was involved in local organisations including Haverhill in Bloom and the town's Safer Neighbourhood Team.

FIRST: Tim Passmore the current PCC

Polling cards have already been sent out to residents for the PCC elections. Residents in Haverhill North should receive polling cards for the borough council election and those in Haverhill Cangle should receive polling cards for the county council by-election.

The PCC is not a police officer, but a representative of the people who is responsible for holding the police to account, setting its strategic direction and ensuring that the voice of the public is heard.

He or she also appoints and dismisses the force's Chief Constable and decides how Suffolk police budget should be spent.

Suffolk's current PCC, Tim Passmore, was elected during the county's first PCC elections in November 2012.

The deadline for nominations for candidates for both the PCC and council elections was today.

If you have not received a polling card or do not know if you are on the electoral register, you can visit westsuffolk.gov.uk to register.

The deadline for registering if you want to vote in May's elections is Monday, April 18.

To find out more about the council by-elections, visit westsuffolk.gov.uk.

To find out more about the PCC elections, including the role of the PCC and the voting process, visit www.suffolkpcc.org.uk.

FUNDRAISING

Sign up for cancer charity relay

FOUR Haverhill teams have already signed up for a fundraising event being held this autumn – and yours could be the fifth.

Applications are now open to take part in Suffolk's only Cancer Research Relay for Life, which will take place on September 17 and 18.

The event, held at Ickworth House outside Bury St Edmunds, will run from midday on the Saturday to midday on the Sunday and will involve at least one member of each team – of between 8 and 15 people – walking continuously throughout the night.

There will be also a silent Candle of Hope ceremony held to pay tribute to those affected by cancer.

Event chair David Cianciola, a cancer survivor from Haverhill, said: "I took part for the first time last year, and talk about an emotional rollercoaster."

As well as being an emotional evening, last year's event raised £55,000 for Cancer Research UK.

To sign up, visit cruk.org/relay, email darkinsrelay4life@gmail.com or call 07430 703 016.

Registration fees are £15 per person, but cancer survivors can take part in the event for free.

SAVED: The Cock will stay open after being bought by a young couple

New owners to see The Cock crowing again

A VILLAGE'S only pub has been saved from permanent closure after being bought by a young couple.

Residents of Thurlow launched a campaign to save The Cock after its owner put it up for sale.

The pub closed its doors in February – but the property has now been bought by a couple who plan to reopen it.

The campaign to save the 17th-century coaching inn had even been backed by MP for West Suffolk, Matthew Hancock.

He said: "I'm delighted that the Thurlow Cock will crow once again. The local community came together and put a huge amount of work in to ensure it stayed as a village pub."

"The whole village send their best wishes to the new publicans and I look forward to seeing the pub reo-

HANNAH MIRSKY

pen its doors."

The Cock is set to be reopened by the start of May by new owners Alex and Rebecca Bourne.

Mr Bourne said: "We decided to go down the route of a pub that's more of an asset, open from eight in the morning as somewhere mums can have a cup of coffee."

As well as serving food and drinks, with a focus on quality ingredients and local breweries, the pub will have elements of a shop, selling both convenience items and homewares.

A bid was also put in for the property by a committee of villagers who raised funds by asking locals to invest in shares in the pub.

But although Mr and Mrs

Bourne's bid for the pub was entirely independent of the community bid, those who campaigned to save the pub say they are delighted it will remain a functioning community space.

Chair of the committee, Alison Coffey, said: "Our basic aim was to save the pub and to have it open – as far as we are concerned, that's great news."

The committee is set to meet the new pub owners to talk about their plans for the property.

Another committee member, Lee Abbey, added: "To have a young couple come in with big aspirations for the pub is fantastic."

"We are chuffed to bits that someone's bought it and it's carrying on as a pub. The fact that it isn't going to be a community pub isn't a problem."

Fighting for asthma patients

On April 1 prescription charges in England increased by 20p from £8.20 to £8.40.

A 20p increase may not seem much but the reality is that people with asthma tell us they've had to choose between paying for their prescriptions and paying for food, fuel and household bills. Any barrier to life-saving medication has the potential to put the lives of millions of people with asthma at risk, and people with asthma shouldn't be forced to pay for the prescriptions they need.

We are continuing with our campaign to put an end to prescription charges for everyone with a long-term condition as part of the Prescription Charges Coalition.

Until prescription charges are ended, we want the Government to raise awareness of schemes such as the Prescription Prepayment Certificates (PPC).

PPCs are effectively prescription 'season tickets' which save money for patients who are regularly prescribed a number of prescription items.

If you would like further information on PPCs, please call our expert asthma nurse Helpline on 0300 222 5800 and sign up to our free email newsletter at: www.asthma.org.uk/sign-up to hear how you can take action and keep up to date on this and other Asthma UK campaigns. If you are having an attack and your reliever inhaler is not helping, you should always call 999.

Share your memories...

IT is remarkable that, as her 90th birthday approaches, Her Majesty the Queen is still working so passionately for our country, and supporting the work of hundreds of charitable organisations. In recognition of her incredible efforts, I would like to invite readers to be part of an historic online commemoration at www.TheQueensBirthdayBook.com. The Queen's Birthday Book will form a huge digital collection of messages, photos and film to mark her special day on April 21.

Anyone can contribute for free by adding their birthday messages and personal stories of meeting the Queen, and they can also share photos and videos of their street parties and celebrations for her official birthday in June.

As well as a great digital archive for future generations to look back on, we've created this book to raise vital funds for the charities the Queen is patron of, through the sale of specially issued commemorative medals from the London Mint Office.

I do hope people will join me in wishing Her Majesty a very happy 90th birthday by sharing their messages, photos, drawings and videos, while also helping to raise money for some deserving causes.

Paws for a tea party...

I AM writing to ask your animal-loving readers to Paws for Tea and host a tea party on Friday, May 13, in aid of a pet charity very close to my heart, Blue Cross.

Their Paws for Tea tea parties are a really fun and simple way to help the thousands of sick, injured and homeless pets that need Blue Cross every year. Whether it's at home, in the office or at school, Paws for Tea is a good excuse to enjoy a cup of tea and a slice of cake whilst helping raise money for a good cause.

My two dogs Stan and Elsie are very dear to me and they get so much love and attention – I wouldn't be without them. But sadly not all pets are as lucky.

Blue Cross works tirelessly to care for hundreds of vulnerable pets and to help find them happy new homes.

So go on, put the kettle on and sign up now at www.bluecross.org.uk/teaparty or phone 0300 790 9903.

■ HAVERHILL CHORAL SOCIETY CONCERT:

Following a very successful season last year when two major works, Carmina Burana and Handel's Messiah, were performed to audiences of more than 100 in Hundon Church, Haverhill Choral Society will be presenting their next concert at Haverhill Arts Centre on Sunday, April 17.

Titled 'IT'S A GAS', this production will be featuring a light-hearted selection of choruses from the famous Victorian composers of comic operas, Gilbert & Sullivan.

There will be many in Haverhill who will welcome the return of their work which was performed regularly by the then Operatic and Dramatic Society and such is their popularity that there are many G & S societies all over the country.

Part of the reason for their success was their tongue-in-cheek observations of society in a period noted for its austerity, and no doubt their often jolly choruses provided welcome relief from the rigours of Victorian life.

Interestingly the choral society was formed around the same time and although the stresses of modern life are somewhat different, the importance of music in providing light relief is probably even greater, whether for a singer or a member of the audience.

The programme includes pieces from several of the many well-known works including the "Mikado" and "Pirates of Penzance" and features solo performances by members of the society with piano accompaniment by Vivien Brookes. The audience will enjoy an informal "cabaret-style" atmosphere, seated at tables, and the bar will be available from 7pm. The concert starts at 7.30pm and tickets are available from the arts centre Box Office. To book your tickets telephone (01440) 714140.

Future activities for the society include a visit to Haverhill's twin town Pont St Esprit, which has invited the choir to join forces in a concert in the cathedral.

Thirty members will be flying out on May 5 for four days for what promises to be a memorable event, 26 years after the last such visit. If you would like to enjoy singing with the choir or for further information phone (01440) 786615 or visit the website, www.haverhillchoralsociety.co.uk

■ The Family History (Haverhill) Group: The group is pleased to be able to have as its next guest speaker Gill Blanchard, who will give a talk titled 'Writing your family history'.

Many family historians gather lots of information but struggle to piece it all together.

A professional genealogist, Gill will be on hand to give her expert advice.

As well as a first degree in history and sociology together with a masters degree in history and politics, Gill is also a historical biographer and writes for various magazines.

She also delivers many talks and courses and will be appearing at 'Who Do You Think You Are? Live 2016' at the NEC in Birmingham.

For those interested in family and social history this is one not to be missed.

Everyone is welcome to go along to the Old Independent Church Hall, Haverhill, on Thursday, April 14, at 7.30pm.

Refreshments provided. (Members £1, non-members £2.50)

TRANSPORT

New probe into dualling A1307

CAMBRIDGE transport chiefs have agreed to carry out further investigation into the practicalities of dualling the A1307 between Haverhill and the city.

The decision has quashed a "spat" between Suffolk business leaders and representatives of Cambridge City Deal – which published a report last month labelling the scheme "poor value for money".

At a City Deal board meeting in March, Jeremy Smith, head of transport and infrastructure policy and funding at Cambridgeshire County Council, agreed with campaigners that the first report was insufficient, and a more comprehensive look into traffic conditions was needed.

The head of the Joint Assembly – which scrutinises the City Deal board – said its members felt new consultation should take into account the growth of Sawston and keep a focus on cycling and walking provision.

Nick Burfield, policy advisor for Suffolk Chamber of Commerce – which has led the campaign to dual the A1307 – said he was "optimistic" at promises to investigate traffic conditions more. He said: "The Greater City Deal is for Cambridge, and the original report didn't look much beyond the A11."

But now, "The City Deal board has been very positive about commissioning more work and they should be complemented for that," he said, adding that the "spat" between the chamber and the City Deal board had come to an end.

"Traffic flow counts will now be done. The original report didn't include up-to-date traffic flowing figures. They will also revise the growth projects for Haverhill."

"We want to see what the survey will say, but I can say for now that I'm more optimistic."

A spokesman for the City Deal said: "The Greater Cambridge City Deal aims to accelerate future growth in the city region by enhancing infrastructure, housing and skills. Its transport plans seek to make the best use of limited funds to make travel easier for the majority of people in and around Cambridge and to support wider transport plans.

"Earlier this month, the City Deal Executive Board agreed to explore possible improvements along the A1307 corridor, with a focus on the stretch between Fourwentways and Cambridge. In response to feedback, it was also agreed to commission with partners, further traffic surveys to gain an up-to-date picture of traffic levels and patterns between Haverhill and Cambridge."

"People can find out more about the proposals and have their say during the public consultation period which is due to start in June."

COMPOST CRAZY: Chair of Suffolk Waste Partnership, Cllr Clive Arthey, with the compost bins being offered at a discount price

Start composting with promotion offer

RESIDENTS are being encouraged to get composting.

Suffolk Waste Partnership (SWP) has launched a scheme with national experts at Getcomposting.com to allow residents in the county to purchase compost bins at half price.

The offer comes as a £40 charge for brown bin collection in St Edmundsbury was rolled out at the start of the month.

Cllr Clive Arthey, chair of SWP, said: "This is a great promotion which will help Suffolk compost more of our garden and food wastes."

FOOD

Local food will be showcased in Westminster

THERE is just a week left until local food producers show off their products at the Houses of Parliament.

The West Suffolk Food Fair will be hosted by MP for West Suffolk Matthew Hancock and Bury St Edmunds MP Jo Churchill.

Over 300 people - including Mr Hancock's parliamentary colleagues and staff, and invited guests from West Suffolk - are already set to attend the event, which is being held in the Jubilee Room in the Houses of Parliament at Westminster.

Mr Hancock said: "I can't believe we only have one week to go until the West Suffolk Food Fair. It is such a fantastic opportunity to show off the finest produce and thriving food and drink businesses that we have in West Suffolk and I am delighted at the number of responses I have received from colleagues."

"I am really looking forward to the day and hope that events like these remind people to shop locally whenever possible."

The final stages of preparation are now under way for the event, which will showcase local producers including The Pantry and Musks, Wyken Vineyard, Greene King, Stoke Farm Orchards and many more.

Visit Suffolk are also set to be attending the event and using the opportunity to launch their new interactive website.

The event will start at around 3pm, immediately after Prime Minister's Questions finish.

Survey reveals opposition to fire service cuts

A REPORT has revealed strong public opposition to cuts to the fire service.

The independent report published yesterday is based on 1,654 consultation surveys received by Suffolk County Council.

The report, produced by Opinion Research Services, details responses to plans to save £1.24million by cutting the fire service, including removing one fire engine from Bury St Edmunds fire station, and replacing an engine at Sudbury fire station with a rapid response vehicle.

The report says that 77 per cent of respondents disagreed with the Bury St Edmunds proposals, while 62 per cent disagreed with the Sudbury proposals.

A campaign which asked residents just to fill out the Sudbury section of the survey received 4,090 responses - all of which strongly disagreed with the proposals.

There were also two petitions opposing the cuts - one signed by 6,184 people, the other was signed by 5,255 people.

No decisions have yet been made on the fire service cuts, and county council cabinet member Matthew Hicks says he is working with the Chief Fire Officer to ensure the report is fully taken into account when the proposals are presented to cabinet on Tuesday, May 17.

CRIME

Arson attack on cars

THREE cars were deliberately set on fire in Haverhill's Chantry Road in the early hours of yesterday morning.

Firefighters received multiple calls to the scene and arrived at 3.58am to find three cars well alight. Two sets of breathing apparatus and two hose reel jets were used to put out the blaze. It was under control by 4.37am and firefighters left at 5.05am. The cause of the fire is thought to be deliberate and police have been contacted.

PEASGOOD & SKEATES

INDEPENDENT FAMILY FUNERAL DIRECTORS & MONUMENTAL MASONS

Peasgood & Skeates have just opened a new office in the fully refurbished premises at 12-14 Queen Street, Haverhill...

Peasgood & Skeates was formed as a merger between three well respected independent family funeral directors, H Peasgood & Son of Saffron Walden, R Skeates of Duxford and Cambridge Funeral Services.

H Peasgood & Son was established by James Day in 1847 as a small wheelwright and general carpentry business and the natural progression was to attend to the funeral arrangements of family and close friends. After three generations of the Day family, Herbert Peasgood took over the business when his uncle James retired in 1919. David Peasgood is the current member of the Peasgood family to work within the business.

R Skeates, a family run business based in Duxford was founded in 1965 by Ron and Rosemary Skeates. Soon after, they were joined by their son David who took over the running of the business in 1992. James Skeates has followed his father and grandfather into the profession and became a fully qualified member of the British Institute of Embalmers in 1997 and a Fellow of the Independent Funeral Directors College.

Herbert Peasgood & James Day c.1910 with their first motor hearse

In 2014 they bought Cambridge Funeral Services, established in 1991, by the Ivett and Reed families. When they looked to expand their services it was quickly apparent that Cambridge Funeral Services shared the same values as Peasgood & Skeates, offering customer choice and providing high quality funerals at a reasonable cost.

The new funeral home in Queen Street, Haverhill is managed by James Skeates with support from funeral administrator Nicki Hickford. They are both Haverhill residents and they will be continuing the family tradition of offering a very personal service with the highest standards of service and care. The premises have been completely renovated and furnished tastefully and comfortably with reproduction furniture, giving a warm and friendly feel for visitors. With so many family funeral directors having been sold to national companies such as Dignity and the Co-Op it is reassuring that companies such as Peasgood & Skeates still remain a family concern.

SPECIALISTS IN PRE-PAID FUNERAL PLANNING

Many people are choosing to take out pre-paid funeral plans. Such plans are already established as a caring and responsible way of making arrangements, services can be tailored to reflect an individual's personality, wishes and life. With families living further apart and, in some cases moving abroad, it is not unusual for children or relatives to purchase a plan on behalf of an elderly or infirm relative or parent.

Pre-paid funeral plans are not normally regarded as forming part of a person's assets or estate, so therefore, in some circumstances this may enable the plan holder to claim benefits for which they may not otherwise qualify. This could even prove advantageous with situations involving inheritance tax. Local funeral directors are proud that when plans are made with them, they can use their local knowledge to personalise the pre-paid plan for the individual, with a good overview of the community that they serve. They will ensure that the most appropriate services and up to date price information is available, maintaining choice and providing a professional service. Peasgood & Skeates are committed to upholding their professional standards and providing both traditional and contemporary services. They are not distracted or bound by corporate rules meaning that they can concentrate on delivering a personal service to you and your family.

financial institutions such as the local Post Offices. When purchasing a plan in this way, it is important to read the small print, often you will be restricted to use a funeral director nominated by that company, this may not be a funeral director that you would choose to use and it may not even be one in your local town.

2. Will the plan cover all the expenses that will be incurred at the time of need?

Why ask? To keep the costs down and look attractive, the plan may only cover the very basic funeral requirements. It is better to speak with a professional funeral director and decide whether this suits your needs and to ensure that you know exactly what you are paying for. Choose a plan that takes into consideration inflation and offers you the opportunity to buy at today's prices but covers you for the cost of the future. As a rule of thumb, would you go to a funeral director to send a parcel or secure a mortgage – no, always go to a professional in their field, particularly when spending a large sum of money.

3. Will my money be safe and will I get value for money?

If you choose to use Golden Charter the funds will be maintained by the Golden Charter Trust, this is a separate entity to the company, run by an Independent Board of Trustees, whose sole purpose is to manage the Trust's funds. The current value of the Golden Charter Trust Fund is £600million (2014). The sum invested grows and when the time comes, your selected funeral director receives the payment, including any growth, and uses this money to provide the agreed and guaranteed services to your family.

WHAT TO CONSIDER WHEN CHOOSING A PRE-PAID FUNERAL PLAN

Making and investing in a pre-paid plan is a decision which should be taken with great care, as it should be when choosing a funeral director.

There are often offers in national papers and on-line, however, it is important that you investigate whether those plans will enable you to choose which funeral director you use and whether they will stand the test of time and cover the cost of the future funeral that you have in your mind.

Here are some key points to consider:

1. Will the funeral plan allow me to choose exactly which funeral director I would like to use?

Why ask? There is a current trend for some nationwide conglomerate funeral directors to sell their plans through

James & Nicki caring for families during bereavement at Queen Street, Haverhill.

PLANNING

Safety concerns over homes plan

PROPOSALS to build 30 new homes in north-west Haverhill have sparked concerns about road safety.

A planning application was submitted last month to build the homes on what is currently a field north of the town's Brickfields Drive.

But councillors and residents say children could be placed at risk by the effect of the development on traffic.

The proposals, submitted by the Trustees of The Vestey 1993 Settlement, suggest creating two, three and four-bedroom houses, as well as garages and public open space, including a small play area.

At a meeting of Haverhill Town Council's planning committee on Tuesday, councillors said that children from the development were likely to travel down Brickfields Drive to a larger play area nearby.

They expressed safety concerns as the road is narrow and has no pavement

HANNAH MIRSKY

and many parked cars.

Brickfields Drive is one of just two suggested main access routes onto the proposed development – meaning that the development could spell a significant increase in traffic on the quiet residential street.

The councillors' concerns were echoed in letters of objection sent to St Edmundsbury Borough Council.

One resident wrote that drivers would inevitably choose Brickfields Drive as a means of access to avoid a car-choked mini-roundabout, adding: "This will increase traffic significantly along our stretch of the road and could potentially be very dangerous to children who do not have a pavement to walk upon when going down to the park."

The resident suggested putting bollards at the end of Brickfields Drive to cut off access to the proposed development.

Town councillors suggested creating a pavement on Brickfields Drive for youngsters to walk on.

The town council planning committee submitted a comment to St Edmundsbury Borough Council saying they did not object to the proposals provided something was done to improve safety on Brickfields Drive.

They also requested that as the site is on the proposed land for the 1,150-home North-West Haverhill development, it triggered the building of a north-west Haverhill relief road.

The application must now go before St Edmundsbury Borough Council's planning committee to be decided.

What do you think about this planning application? Have your say online at cambridge-news.co.uk/haverhill

CHARITY: Walkers from a previous Girls Night Out gather in the Abbey Gardens in Bury St Edmunds. Left, Amanda Williams with Sue Elliott

Step up to take part in Girls Night Out walk

A CHARITY event which attracted 99 women from Haverhill last year is set to take place again.

St Nicholas Hospice Care's Girls Night Out involves women wearing flashing bunny ears and pyjamas walking either 11.2 or 6 miles around Bury St Edmunds after dark.

It will take place for the eighth time on September 10.

Haverhill's Amanda

Williams walked the route with her mother and two cousins last year.

She said: "We were only half way around the route when we had decided we would do it again – we absolutely loved the fact it was all girls together."

To register, pick up a form at the Burton Centre in Haverhill's Camps Road or visit www.girlsnightoutwalk.co.uk. Registration costs £10 until May 31.

INDUSTRY

Enterprise zone attracting firms

NEW businesses are in talks about coming to Haverhill – as a zone offering benefits to companies is launched.

The “Cambridge Compass” Enterprise Zone (EZ), which includes Haverhill Research Park (HRP), in Four Counties Way, went live on Friday.

The zone means businesses setting up in the research park will not have to pay any business rates before April 2022.

HRP currently has housing, a nursery and a pub on site, but the first occupiers for the 37,000 sq m of commercial space have not yet been announced.

Nic Rumsey, of HRP developers Jaynic, said: “Being an EZ will only benefit our on-going discussions with occupiers.”

“Added to the strong infrastructure benefits of Haverhill, including a further 3,500 houses [in the proposed North-West Haverhill and Great Wilsey Park developments] coming on stream in the town soon, HRP becomes a compelling choice.”

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

Cllr John Griffiths, leader of St Edmundsbury Borough Council, added: “I am aware that there have already been enquiries and I can’t wait to greet the first businesses to our enterprise zones.”

Mark Reeve, chair of the Greater Cambridge Greater Peterborough LEP, which secured the zone, said: “We know that there are a number of companies very close to signed deals on sites and premises within the Cambridge Compass Enterprise Zone, and we look forward to making further announcements very soon.”

As well as the benefits to businesses on the research park, money collected from business rates in the zone will go to the borough council rather than central government for the next 25 years. This means the cash can be reinvested in industry locally.

Cllr Griffiths said: “Enterprise zones are about creating more local jobs, increasing and diversifying the local skills base, and overall increasing the wealth and prosperity of our residents.”

HRP is the only one of the five sites in the “Cambridge Compass” located south of the city.

Mr Rumsey continued: “By being included in the Cambridge Compass Enterprise Zone this underlines Haverhill’s strategic importance in the Greater Cambridge area.”

He was not able to announce when the first HRP occupiers were likely to set up on the site.

A CHILDREN'S playground has received a new coat of paint and the promise of more equipment after parents launched a petition to get it refurbished.

Parents Clare Reeve, of Haverhill's Cambridge Way, and Ben Brangwin, of the town's Forest Glade, started their campaign to get the play area in Howe Road refurbished last summer.

They launched an online petition, which was signed by 385 people, as well as receiving numerous comments.

St Edmundsbury Borough Council initially told the News that the play area was not set to be refurbished within the next couple of years.

But Ms Reeve said after the campaigners met a St Edmundsbury Borough Council operations manager, they were told the play area would be repainted by the end of March and fully refurbished next year.

Ms Reeve, mother of Poppy, 7,

SUCCESS: Damian Page with Arty, Clare Reeve with Poppy, and Ben Brangwin with Paige, 2, at Haverhill's Howe Road play area and Arty, 2, discovered the playground had been painted when she went down to take some pictures. She said: "The sun was out and I thought: 'Finally!'"

She added that she believed the parents' petition had been instrumental in getting the work done, saying: "I do think it was just as case of bringing it into awareness."

As well as the paint, the tractor-shaped climbing frame in the play area has received a new toy wheel after the last one was ripped off by vandals, leaving exposed metal edges.

Ms Reeve said: "Quite honestly, just to have the painting done and tractor wheel replaced has brought such a lovely start to the spring and summer months. Poppy and Arty love it."

A St Edmundsbury Borough Council spokesperson confirmed that refurbishment of the park was scheduled for 2017/18.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Junior doctors' strike set to end tomorrow

JUNIOR doctors across West Suffolk are currently striking, leading to some delays and cancellations in the health service.

The strike started yesterday morning and is set to finish at 8am tomorrow.

During this time, the A&E department at West Suffolk Hospital will still be open to give access to emergency care, but patients are being asked to use pharmacies and call NHS 111 where possible.

There may be delays at in emergency care for those with less pressing needs, and some procedures and operations have been cancelled. If you have not been contacted to say a scheduled appointment has been cancelled, attend as normal.

Firefighters help elderly woman with breathing

FIREFIGHTERS gave oxygen to an elderly woman suffering breathing difficulties in Haverhill on Tuesday.

The woman was discovered at around 10.12am in the town's Tudor Close by firefighters who were carrying out safety visits.

They called the ambulance service and administered oxygen therapy to the woman until the paramedic arrived.

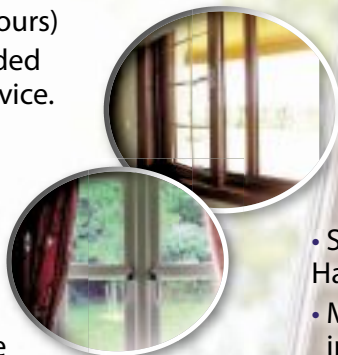

The ambulance service sent one rapid response vehicle and a paramedic to the woman, but she did not need to be taken to hospital.

The firefighters resumed their normal duties at around 10.57am.

Magic in Oz

FOLLOW the yellow brick road to the Haverhill Arts Centre this week to take in a magical show.

An Easter pantomime version of the much-loved story The Wizard of Oz is set to appeal to all the family.

Produced by Soham-based theatre company KD Productions, the story follows Dorothy as she finds herself uprooted from her Kansas home and planted in the magical land of Oz.

There she makes friends with the Lion, the Scarecrow and the Tin Man and they set off to meet the wizard himself.

Packed with song and dance routines, spectacular scenery, and plenty of belly laughs in the pantomime tradition, this production is set to have something to appeal to all the family.

Just don't forget to click your heels to get you home...

■ Thursday, April 7 – Friday, April 15
■ Dominic Kirwan, firmly established as one of Ireland's greatest ever entertainers, hits Haverhill with his brand new show tonight at 7.30pm. The 'Here For A Good Time' tour once again features Dominic's fabulous band, always so popular with his legion of followers, but this time there is also a very special new addition as Dominic introduces his son Barry, a talented singer and musician in his own right, touring with his famous father for the first time. Tickets are going like hot cakes.

■ Put 'em up, put 'em up! Memories will come flooding back when KD Theatre Productions bring The Wizard of Oz to the arts centre on Saturday, April 9, at 2pm and 6pm. This magical adventure packed with jokes, quality song and dance routines, glitz and spectacular scenery sold out pretty quickly.

■ Join the audience for a live broadcast of the Bolshoi Ballet's Don Quixote on Sunday, April 10, at 4pm. The eccentric hero leaves on a quest in search of his perfect woman. On the way he meets Kitri, the dazzling daughter of an innkeeper whom he thinks might be his ideal love.

■ The UK's very own 'voice of Neil' Bob Drury takes to the road with a brand new one-man stage show simply bursting with Neil Diamond gems on Friday, April 15. Viva Neil Diamond celebrates 50 years of hits including Sweet Caroline, Forever in Blue Jeans, Love on the Rocks, America, Hello Again, Play Me, Beautiful Noise, Song Sung Blue, I'm a Believer, Red Red Wine, and many more. Tap those feet for a 7.30pm start.

■ On the cinema front there is a bumper crop of quality films for you, starting on Friday with Secret in their Eyes (15). It's post 9/11 America and elite FBI investigators Ray and Jess are called to a brutal murder and are consumed with grief when they discover that the victim is Jess's daughter. The narrative then fast forwards to 2015 when Ray persuades the district attorney to reopen the unsolved case. Next up on Monday, April 11, at 1.30pm is Spotlight (15), winner of numerous awards including Best Picture

BALLET: Maria Alexandrova in Bolshoi Ballet's production of Don Quixote on April 10

Oscar and with a stellar cast including Mark Ruffalo, Michael Keaton, Rachel McAdams and Liev Schreiber. This is the story of a newspaper's Pulitzer Prize-winning exposure of wrongdoing in the Catholic Church. Calling all keen cyclists, documentary Battle Mountain: Grahame Obree's Story is showing on Monday, April 11, at 7.30pm. The film follows the cyclist known as The Flying Scotsman, as he competes for the Human Powered Landspeed Record. This is an intimate, emotional and inspiring portrait of a man who time and again succeeds against all odds. The film will be followed with a Q & A session from the man himself. Finally Truth (15), starring Cate Blanchett, Robert Redford and Dennis Quaid, is showing on Tuesday, April 12, at 7.30pm. During the 2004 presidential campaign, CBS news producer Mary Maples and anchorman Dan Rather are tipped off that Bush dodged his patriotic duty in the Vietnam War. The ensuing scandal ruined Dan Rather's career and almost took down all of CBS News in the process.

■ Forthcoming events include psychic medium Tony Stockwell on Wednesday, April 20, at 7.30pm, acclaimed guitarists Vicki Genfan and Stuart Masters on Friday, April 22, at 8pm and leading constitutional historian David Starkey talking about the 13th century Magna Carta on Saturday, April 23, at 7.30pm.

■ LISTINGS

■ Thursday, April 7, at 7.30pm DOMINIC KIRWAN. £19

■ Friday, April 8, at 7.30pm SECRET IN THEIR EYES (15). £6/£5

Mazda MX-5 scoops win at the World Car Awards

THE Mazda MX-5 has been declared '2016 World Car of the Year' during a press conference hosted by the New York International Auto Show, Bridgestone Corporation and Autoneum.

The Mazda MX-5 was chosen from an initial entry list of 23 vehicles from all over the world, then a short list of ten, then three finalists: the Audi A4 Sedan/Audi A4 Avant, the Mazda MX-5, and the Mercedes-Benz GLC.

Among the other winners, the Audi R8 Coupé was crowned "2016 World Performance Car" at the World Car Awards, which were presented this week during the New York International Auto Show.

With a total of four awards, the Audi R8 is the most successful model in the history of the World Car Awards. The predecessor to the R8 had already taken home two World Performance Car awards and a World Car Design of the Year award in the prestigious competition.

Now the second generation of the high-performance sports car from Audi was able to win over the international jury of 73 leading automotive journalists. This makes the Audi R8 a winner – on the road as well as on the racetrack.

"With its distinctive design, its driving dynamics and its closeness to racing, the R8 is one of the strongest calling cards for the four rings and is the flagship car from Audi Sport," said Dietmar Vöggenreiter, board member at Audi AG. "The first generation of the R8 paved our way toward becoming a premium brand and raised the aura of Audi to a new level. The new R8 will continue this success story and further accelerate the growth strategy of Audi Sport."

The Audi R8 Coupé offers more performance than any other Audi production model. The mid-mounted V10 and newly developed quattro drive offer extraordinary driving performance. The top version, with 610PS, sprints from 0 to 62mph in just 3.2 seconds and can continue to a 205mph maximum speed.

The genetics of the Audi R8 contain the know-how acquired from numerous wins by the brand in racing: the sports prototypes have won the 24 hours of Le Mans 13 times since 2000, and the R8 LMS contributed seven more overall victories in 24-hour races since 2009.

In addition to the BMW 7 Series was declared the 2016 World Luxury Car.

The World Car Awards are now in their 12th year.

EVOCATIVE: Classic car interior

Bid to bottle favourite car smells into spray

WHAT makes the perfect 'old car smell'? Channel 4 show Car SOS' charismatic host Fuzz Townshend is looking to find out – and bottle it.

Working with insurance broker Carole Nash's 'Cherished' division, which caters for classic car owners, Fuzz is fronting a campaign to ask the people of Britain what they feel makes the ideal scent for a classic motor.

Whether it's the musk of old leather seats, the whiff of engine oil or even the salty tang of seaside air that reminds you of your holidays, Carole Nash and Fuzz Townshend want your input.

And the final 'winning' combination of smells will be made into a limited edition air freshener for old-school car enthusiasts.

Dawn Holmes, marketing manager of Carole Nash's classic division, said: "We want to encompass the nation's favourite memories with their cars into one nostalgic fragrance."

ON THE MONEY: Kia's Sportage

Kia wins two Red Dot awards for car design

KIA Motors has once again reinforced its reputation for the highest design standards, picking up two prizes at the 2016 'Red Dot Awards' for Product Design, one of the most prestigious international product design competitions.

The new Kia Sportage compact SUV and Optima saloon – the carmaker's two latest models – both received coveted 'Red Dots'. The independent judging panel even honoured the Kia Optima with a 'Best of the Best' award, the competition's highest distinction, for which only the most ground-breaking designs in a category are eligible.

The new generations of the Optima and the European Kia bestseller, the Sportage, were launched across Kia's global markets earlier this year.

First training car for the under-10s

A BRAND new car designed by motoring experts for five to 10 year olds is to launch for the first time – and the company behind it is looking for test drivers to help perfect the specially created vehicle.

This quality car has been nine months in development and has been designed by specialist engineers specifically for under-10s. The two-seater cars will feature twin, state of the art, electric motors, disc brakes, independent suspension, right or left hand drive steering and an innovative system that detects obstacles and stops the car to avoid collisions. The cars will feature a contemporary body styled by car designer Chris Johnson, who has over 30 years' experience in automotive and product design both working directly for car manufacturers and as a design consultant.

The training car has been specially produced by Young Driver Motor Cars Limited, a division of Young Driver, the UK's largest provider of pre-17 driving lessons. Young Driver has delivered over 300,000 driving lessons to 10-17 year olds at more than 40 venues across the country. Revealing its plans for the first time at the Gadget Show Live – on until Sunday – members of the public will see a sneak preview of the car's design, with youngsters being given the opportunity to test drive one of four working chassis and provide feedback in this final development phase.

NEW CAR FOR UNDER-10S: To be launched next month

The car will be able to reach speeds of up to 10mph, however, on the finished car an innovative safety mechanism will ensure the car automatically cuts out if it is in danger of a collision. Parents will also be able to utilise a remote control to stop the car if it became necessary.

The car will officially launch next month, when youngsters will be able to drive the vehicle at selected Young Driver venues across the UK.

The vehicles are entirely unique and are manufactured exclusively in the UK.

Jess Thom's T4 tics right boxes

EBAY has given an award-winning comedienne a van-tastic gift this spring – a custom Volkswagen Transporter 'superhero van'.

Extremely funny stage performer Jess Thom, 26, has Tourette's and fronts Touretteshero, a charity helping fellow sufferers. One of her everyday compulsive 'tics', brought on by her condition, involves repeating the word 'biscuit' hundreds of times during conversation – and performance.

Her new tour, Backstage in Biscuit, will go ahead in the heavily customised T4 Transporter, which features 'hot-rod' wheels, a spoiler, body kit and a sun visor. There are sports seats mounted on sliding seat mechanisms from a Mercedes Vito, bespoke carpeting, LED lighting and a USB phone charger at each seat.

After being presented with the electric blue gift, Thom said: "You're helping us change the world one tic at a time!"

Captains' drive-in triumph for Haverhill foursome

Golf

MANDY Williamson, Anne Reed, Jenni Bradnam and Elaine Ward triumphed in the stableford competition held to celebrate Haverhill's annual Captains' Drive-In.

Lady captain Val Shipp, seniors' captain Bob Hammett and junior captain Fiona Stokes hosted the day, which attracted a large field from all sections of the club.

The format featured teams of four with the best two scores to count and all scores to count on par three holes.

Williamson, Reed, Bradnam and Ward were in fine form to take the win with 105 points, with Denise Walker, Jim and Carol Day, and Sheila Price second on 103.

Haverhill ladies' team halved their friendly against Saffron Walden.

The fourball better ball match saw Siobhan Harrison and Mary Sail, and Judy Farren and Chris Grainger both win their matches 3&2.

Ann Thompson and Norma Humphrey, and Gill Richardson and Price both lost 3&2.

Haverhill March into Plate final

Rugby union

HAVERHILL progressed to the Cambridgeshire Plate final by beating March 23-5.

Home team March started strong, but Haverhill adapted to their play quickly and spoiled their rhythm, finally dominating in all areas of the game, which doubled up as an Eastern Counties, Division Two West match.

Despite the game being played almost exclusively in the Bears half, it took 25 minutes for the visitors to take the lead. Michael Lansdowne burst through for a try and Jake Jeffs' superb kick made the score 7-0.

March scored their only points of the game at the beginning of the second half.

Haverhill's defence were caught out by the bounce of the ball, and the Bears gained an unconverted try.

On 55 minutes, Haverhill overturned a scrum and in the next play Kevin Whistcraft made his way through the March defence after Paul Bergin's well laid-off ball. Jeffs converted for 14-5.

Jeffs was on the scoreboard again on 63 minutes, scoring a 45-metre penalty.

Only two minutes later, he extended the lead to 15 points as the Bears transgressed again.

The visitors and Jeffs, who was voted as the supporters' man of the match, scored once more through another penalty.

With this game being a double-header, Haverhill will go through to the final of Cambridgeshire Plate where they will face Cottenham Renegades at Cambourne on Saturday, April 16 with a 4pm kick-off.

Borough fall victim to Waveney fightback

HAVERHILL Borough's dreams of a final at Portman Road were shattered after a dramatic penalty shoot out loss to Waveney in the Suffolk Senior Cup semi-finals.

Borough had been two goals up in the Suffolk Senior Cup semi-final, but Anglian Combination outfit Waveney fought back to level the match and eventually prevailed on spot kicks.

Matt Staines put Borough ahead on 57 minutes and swiftly added a second when his shot deceived the Waveney keeper after taking a deflection.

However, Waveney cut the deficit immediately and then equalised six minutes from full time.

Football

Extra time produced no winner so penalties followed, but both Owen Longley and Ian Bluett had efforts saved, while Waveney scored the crucial one to go through to the final.

Borough lost 1-0 to Woodbridge in the Thurlow Nunn League, First Division on Tuesday night.

Haverhill Rovers were unable to repeat their win over Newmarket from the week before as they were edged out 2-1 in the Thurlow Nunn League, Premier Division.

The away side led after 10 minutes thanks to Richard Chadwick's volley from near the edge of the area following a corner.

Callum Robinson prevented Newmarket doubling their lead in the first half, saving a penalty from Deakan Napier.

Haverhill equalised in the 58th minute when a ball forward saw them two-on-two against the Newmarket defence, and the move ended with Rory Jebb outmuscling his marker and firing home from 12 yards out.

But against the run of play, Napier netted from 20 yards out with a low shot from the edge of the area with what proved to be the winner, with Rovers unable to force an equaliser.
